

Accessibility Features of this Website

This page highlights some of the accessibility features in the International Summit website, including:

- changing the text size;
- using 'jump' links to skip navigation or content blocks;
- using access keys to navigate;
- other design and programming features.

These features are built into the International Summit's web design templates, and should work on any International Summit sub-site that uses the templates.

If you encounter an accessibility problem on an International Summit webpage, please contact the web team and let us know: telephone +(61 3) 9744 6976 or email: lgfisher@iprimus.com.au.

You can change the size of text on this site by following the instructions provided below.

Use the 'jump' links to skip navigation or content blocks.

Use the access keys to navigate by shortcuts. To use the access keys on a Windows computer, hold down the alt key and press the relevant letter key. On a Macintosh, hold down the control key while you type the relevant letter. (Access keys are not available in all web browsers.) Here is a list of access keys for this web site:

- Alt a is a shortcut to this accessibility page.
- Alt h is a shortcut to the International Summit's home page.
- Alt s is a shortcut to the search facility.
- Alt o is a shortcut to contact the Co-Chairs.
- Alt g is a shortcut to the selected jump menu option
- Alt t is a shortcut to the top of the page.
- Alt c is a shortcut to the content part of the page.
- Alt d is a shortcut to the disclaimer and copyright page.
This shortcut will not work in Internet Explorer 7 due to a conflict with a built in command.
- Alt p is a shortcut to the privacy page.
- Alt m is a shortcut to the page maintainer's email link.
